JAMAICA CENTER QUEENS

KING MANOR MUSEUM IN KING PARK

Jamaica Avenue at 153rd Street (A)
King Manor Museum was the home and farm of Founding Father Rufus King (1755-1827). Rufus King was an author of the U.S. Constitution, as well as one of New York's first United States Senators, Ambassador to Great Britain, and an early and outspoken opponent of slavery. King Manor later became the estate of King's son, John Alsop King, who served as New York's Governor. King Manor has been a museum since 1900 and is located in an 11-acre park. ### FORMER FIRST REFORMED DUTCH CHURCH OF JAMAICA

153-10 Jamaica Avenue (B)
Founded by Dutch merchants, the First Reformed Church was originally built near Jamaica Avenue and 162nd Street in 1715. A second wood church was built at the current location in 1833, but was later destroyed by fire in 1857. The church built and completed in 1859 to replace the one destroyed by the fire, still stands today. With its distinct arches, the redbrick facade is a fine example of the early Romanesque Revival style. Long vacant during the 20th century, the landmarked church recently underwent an extensive renovation and is now the Jamaica Performing Arts Center, a 400-seat multi-purpose performance space. (www.jamaica-performingartscenter.org / 718-618-6170)

GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH & GRAVEYARD

155-15 Jamaica Avenue (C)
Founded in 1702, Grace Church served as the official church of the British colonial government by those who split from the Presbyterian Church. The congregation moved to its current location in 1734 and built the Gothic Revival church that stands there today in 1862. Among those buried in the adjacent graveyard is Rufus King, whose house still stands one block away. (718-291-4901)

FORMER REGISTER

161-04 Jamaica Avenue (D)
Built in 1898, the Italian Renaissance style building once housed the Queens Register of Titles and Deeds. The building, a New York landmark listed on the National Register of Historic Places, is now occupied by the Jamaica Center for Arts and Learning (JCAL), a non-profit organization that offers visual, performing and literary arts, arts education and artists' programs. (www.jcal.org / 718-658-7400)

FORMER JAMAICA SAVINGS BANK

161-02 Jamaica Avenue (E)
The Jamaica Savings Bank was founded by former New York governor, John King, and a group of investors in 1866. The highly decorative Beaux-Art building standing today was constructed in 1897-1898 and designed by Hough & Deuell. The limestone facade is framed by double-story pilasters and overlaid with elaborate carved brackets and other details. The current building housed the bank until 1964, when the bank moved across the street.

FORMER KURTZ & SONS STORE

162-24 Jamaica Avenue (F)
Built in 1931, the building is one of the finest examples of Art Deco architecture in Queens and a building of great prominence on the commercial thoroughfare of Jamaica Avenue.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF JAMAICA

89-60 164th Street (G)
For nearly 350 years, the First Presbyterian Church in Jamaica has worshiped and served in the same community of Jamaica, Queens. Organized in 1662, the first stone church built in 1699 is said to have been used as British prison in Revolutionary times. The present church was originally built on Jamaica Avenue in 1813, and was moved to its current location by mules in 1920. ### FORMER LOEW'S VALENCIA THEATER

165-11 Jamaica Avenue (H)
What is now the Tabernacle of Prayer church, was once home to the Loew's Valencia Theater - which seated over 3,500 people and was the first of five "Wonder Theatres" in the Loew's chain. The spectacular and ornate movie theater, built in 1929 by John Ebersohn, was designed in the Baroque Spanish style, with an ornate facade constructed of terra-cotta and brick. The church is open to visitors on Sundays.

WELCOME TO JAMAICA CENTER

For fashionable and affordable apparel, house wares, furniture, jewelry and electronics, Jamaica Avenue is the place to shop for deals in New York City.

That's not all.

Discover another side of Jamaica Center where you can enjoy the area's rich arts and culture in the many museums, galleries and theaters. Or, explore Jamaica's monuments and striking architecture that spans its 350-year history.

So whether you are looking to shop, see a show, or visit a museum, there is something for everyone on Jamaica Avenue.

ABOUT US

Created in 1979, the Jamaica Center Business Improvement District (ie "BID") is a not-for-profit organization dedicated to providing services and programs to improve the quality-of-life for all those who visit, work and live in the community.
